CORAM: A.M.KHANWILKAR, J.

SEPTEMBER 8, 2005.

P.C.

1. Counsel for the Applicant prays for further time to comply with necessary formalities before the Official Liquidator for the purpose of re-adjudication of workers' claim.

2. Representative of Official Liquidator submits that the Official Liquidator will take steps to pay the concerned workers as per the adjudicated claim, as that process has already been commenced.

3. In view of this statement, nothing survives for consideration with reference to payer clause (a) of the Application.

4. Insofar as prayer clause (b) is concerned, representative of the Official Liquidator states that as and when remaining workers complete the formalities of submitting relevant documents for re-adjudication of their claim, necessary steps will be taken and matter will be taken to its logical end, in accordance with law. In view of this assurance, nothing survives for consideration in prayer clause (b) as well.

5. Accordingly, Application disposed of on the assurance given by the Official Liquidator.

6. Workers may be well advised to pursue their claim before the Official Liquidator.
